Hagen Hall open house to be Sunday

An open house will be held Sunday, May 6, from 2 to 7 p.m., in honor of Hagen Hall, the college's new science and industrial arts building, to which the public is invited.

The purpose of the Open House is to give area residents an opportunity to examine the new building and its facilities, which are among the most modern and efficient available, and to enable visitors to see at first-hand the various technical departments housed in Hagen Hall. College authorities are especially hopeful that visitors will see for themselves the types of facilities needed today for adequate instruction in the sciences and related fields. Official dedication will be held next fall.

Exhibits and displays will be shown by various departments during Open House, and refreshments will be served.

Hagen Hall is named in honor of Dr. Olaf J. Hagen, noted Moorhead physician and educator, and resident director of Moorhead State College from 1923 to 1931. The 89-year-old Dr. Hagen, whose late wife was the daughter of Dr. Frank A. Weld, second president of the College and the man for whom Weld Hall is named, presently resides in Moorhead.

The four-story light-brick building with gray glass windows measures 75 x 250 feet, and, with basement, greenhouse, and auditorium, provides over 94,000 square feet of space. Full capacity of the building's laboratories and other facilities is 1420 students at any one time.

Started in October, 1960, the construction of Hagen Hall was speeded by the use of pre-cast double-T concrete slabs, reinforced with steel, for flooring construction. A 4,000-pound elevator is also included, for both passenger and freight purposes.

The science, industrial arts, mathematics, psychology, geology, and geography departments are housed in the structure.

Besides the greenhouse and 238-seat auditorium, the first floor features a radio-isotope laboratory and storage area for radioactive materials, physiology laboratory, woodworking shop, automotive shop, and general classrooms.

The second floor, designed for industrial arts uses, includes mechanical drawing rooms, electric shop, graphic arts shop (including a complete offset printing section), sheet metal and machine shop, and foundry shop, as well as classrooms.

Housed on the third floor are a psychology laboratory (including a specially-equipped animal room used in conjunction with the science department), observation rooms with special one-way glass panels, biology laboratories, combination geology and geography laboratory, zoology and botany classrooms, and mathematics laboratory and machine room, as well as general classrooms.

Chemistry and physics laboratories occupy most of the fourth floor. Analytical and physical chemistry laboratories are separated by a balance room where intricate measuring devices are housed, and by an instrumental analysis room. General and organic chemistry laboratories, advanced and general physics laboratories, general classrooms, and a second photographic darkroom complete the fourth floor.

Ingersoll, Musgrave to attend conference

John Ingersoll, freshman from Moorhead, and Janice Musgrave, freshman from New Orleans, La., will attend a "People to People" conference tomorrow at Macalester College in St. Paul.

The conference, a followup to a similar meeting April 13, will discuss the foreign student on Minnesota campuses, and will consider proposals for organizing a state association.

"People to People" is a national program sponsored by the Hallmark Foundation, and attempts to foster friendships with foreign students and to enable such students to become acquainted with American homes, industries, farms, etc.

The April 13 conference, held at the State Capitol, was also attended by Vernon Overby, sophomore from Moorhead, and Mr. Thomas Pahl, instructor in political science.

Homecoming slogan contest to be held

Homecoming co-chairmen Diane Monear and Dan Wilhelm have announced the opening of the 1962 Homecoming Slogan Contest. The winning slogan will be used as the theme for the fall homecoming festivities.

This contest is open to all MSC students and will run from Monday,

May 7, to Monday, May 14. Students may submit an unlimited number of entries. The Student Commission will judge the entries. A $10 prize will be given to the writer of the winning slogan.

Entries must be placed in the suggestion box on the Student Commission door (Room 110, MacLean).

The 1962-63 school year celebrates the 75th anniversary of the founding of MSC. Homecoming activities, beginning Tuesday, October 9, will be held in conjunction with this celebration. The Dragons will play Michigan Tech in the homecoming game on Saturday, October 13.

Euterpe Singers will perform at Ada and Hendrum May 8

The Euterpe Singers, a choir of fifty-four women's voices directed by Dr. Maude Wenck, will sing at Ada and Hendrum Tuesday, May 8.

The program will consist of the following selections by the entire group:

Sing Your Songs Noble Cain
This Very Day (Second Word)
from "The Seven Last Words" Dubois
Granada Agustin Sara
Clouds Biresak
Drifting and Waring Arrangement
Dreaming

I Could Have Danced All Night Lowe
A Pretty Girl is Like a Melody Berlin

In addition there will be several vocal and instrumental solos and vocal ensembles.

Soloists for the tour will be Wanda Larson, Anita Hannemann, Jacelyn Gidmark, Becky Crawford, and Judy Nelson.

Accompanists will be Nancy Even-son and Virginia Shimota.

Annual honors convocation set for May 16

EDITORS' NOTE: Just before press time, word was received that the Honors convocation will be held Wed., May 16, instead of May 9. Details of this will appear next week.

Moorhead State College will hold its annual Honors Convocation at 9:00 a.m. Wednesday, May 9, in the Alex Nemzek Fieldhouse on the College campus.

Honors recognition is the high point of the academic year for Moorhead State College students, says College President Dr. John J. Neumaier.

To be honored at the convocation will be those students at Moorhead State College who have maintained high academic averages, according to Mrs. Virginia Grantham, professor of language and literature and chairman of Academic Honors Committee at the college.

Special honors will be given to those with a 3.5 to 4.0 average; Honors will be given to those with a 3.25 to 3.49 average and Honorable Mentions will be given to those with a 3.0 to 3.24 average. The grading system used at Moorhead State College classifies an "A" average as 4.0 and a "B" average as 3.0.

Those to receive honors are as follows:

SPECIAL HONORS

Vickie Anderson, Rodney Baker, Barbara Bakke, Harold Bennett, Byron Benshoof, Germaine Bray, Ardythe Christianson, Gerald Elseth, Mary Flannery, Ann Frolund, Robert Gjengdahl, Sharon Gullickson, Marlys Hanson, Mildred Hegrenes, Daniel Holm, Karen Holte, Julian Hoxeng, Shirley Hjelte, Anna Lindstrom Jackson, Ronald Johnson, Carolyn King, Nona Kipp, Jerry Kjollien, Darlene Knutson, Margo Larson, Richard Leppert, Pearl LeRud, Lewis Lowe, and Joyce Laura.

Admission to this convocation is by ticket only. Tickets have been made available to relatives and friends of those honored.

PARKING PROBLEMS PRODUCE PROVOCATION AND PERPLEXITY

Many residents in the vicinity of MSC have complained to Moorhead and MSC officials about the many students who park in front of homes instead of the ample MSC parking lots. The City Council is considering a proposal whereby all the streets and avenues near the college would be posted for no parking or limited parking only, so it would benefit both the area residents and the college students if all students would use the lots on campus, particularly since studies show that these lots are adequate to handle all cars driven to campus each day.

Zeller, convo speaker, states profits increase investments

by Carolyn Klinnert

George C. Zeller, Director of Public Relations of the Lake Superior District of United States Steel, spoke at the May 2 convocation. Mr. Zeller is a graduate of the University of Illinois, and has also studied at the University of Pittsburgh, Columbia University, and the University of Minnesota. He has been with United States Steel for 20 years.

Mr. Zeller began by explaining that profit is what is left over after all payments are made, but from this profit must come reinvestment in new tools, research, and any other assets. New growth from the investment of profits is the backbone of our economy; it is this growth that increases employment, he emphasized.

"Most people today are propagandized to pinch the profits of industry," he said. They are told that "wages can be increased without raising profits," and that too much profit causes economic ills, "but this view actually causes a pressure on profits that we can't afford," he said.

It takes more than the profits of corporations to invest in new tools for industry, Mr. Zeller said. "The people must be given an incentive to invest their savings, which come from profit or expectation of profit," he said.

If all nations raised technology to our levels, there would be no market abroad, so we must "think in terms of better technology—we must compete or die," he said. "In getting better technology, we need more profit, because lower profit means fewer tools." The worst crime of a company is operating without profits, he added.

"How large should profits be?" he asked. As Lincoln, when asked how long a shirt-tail should be, Mr. Zeller answered "large enough to cover the subject."

In the same sense, so should profit be large enough to create new jobs, new tools, new wealth, and "entirely cover the subject," he concluded.

Are more Sororities needed?

Are four sororities enough for MSC?
An answer to this question will be sought next Monday, May 7, when women interested in discussing informally the possible establishment of a new sorority on campus will meet in the Library Auditorium at 4 p.m. with Miss Carol Stewart, dean of women.
With the present enrollment of women at approximately 700 and the membership quotas of the existing sororities limited to a total of 140, the question is also being posed to the Inter-Sorority Council.
All four of the present sororities have indicated to the Council their willingness to assist a new organization wherever possible.
All interested women are urged to attend the meeting.

Five MSC faculty attend conference

The Tri-State Association (South Dakota, Minnesota, and North Dakota) of Student Teaching will hold its annual meeting in Brookings, South Dakota on May 4 and 5.
Attending from MSC will be Miss Dorothy Dodds, kindergarten supervisor at the Campus School, Miss Laura Scherfenberg, Grade One supervisor at the Campus School, Dr. Jane Johnston, science supervisor, Campus School; Mr. Arlo Brown and Miss Grace Gregerson, off-campus student teaching supervisor.
Mr. Arlo Brown will be a discussion leader for Area V, "Improving Student Teaching Through Upgrading The Services of the Directors of Student Teaching."
The meetings are designed to upgrade student teaching in the tri-state area. All meetings will be held at South Dakota State College.

MSC Campus School band concert set

On May 9, the annual MSC Campus School Concert will be presented in the Campus School Gymnasium at 8:00 P.M.
Featured will be the Senior Band composed of sixty-one members under the direction of Mr. Jerold A. Sundet with assistant direction by Kay William Erickson, and a Cadet Band of thirty-seven members under the direction of student teacher Gerald Sachs.
Soloists of the Senior Band will be Kay William Erickson on the oboe and Chris Kihl on the trombone.
Soloists of the Cadet Band will be Judy Atherton on the Clarinet and Allan Williams on the coronet.
Two of the main features of the evening will be the Senior Band's presentation of Vincent Persichetti's Pageant and the U.S. Steel Suite by Bernard Green.
The Senior Band recently won "A" ratings in both the District Band Contest and the State Regional Band Contest.

Hagen Hall as seen by Mystic camera

Mistic photographer George Wray visited Hagen Hall with his camera and caught these glimpses of the building's attractive and efficient facilities.

These shots are but a few of the many rooms and departments contained in the building, which will be open to the public this Sunday from 2 to 7 p.m. Details on the Open House appear on page one of today's Mistic.

Youngquist shows one-man art exhibit

A one-man show of paintings and drawings by Mr. Jack Youngquist of the MSC Art Department is now being exhibited on third floor of Mac-

Mr. Jack Youngquist and one of his paintings now on exhibition on third floor of MacLean Hall

Lean Hall.

The exhibition features mostly oil paintings rendered in an impressionistic style, while his drawings range from penciled abstracts to realistic renditions in pen and ink and chalk. Most of the landscapes were done this past summer at Grand Marais in northern Minnesota.

An unusual feature of the exhibition are three commercial design pieces. Two of the works are mural designs for tentative use in commercial buildings. The third work, "Italiana," done on translucent panel, suggests an Italian city and is intended for a window or wall divider.

Mr. Youngquist is with the college art department on temporary appointment. He was born in Crookston, Minnesota, received his BA in philosophy from the University of Minnesota and his Master of Fine Arts degree from the University of Iowa.

In 1953 he studied art education at New York University. He spent a year in Greenwich Village and studied painting with the Art Student League, New York.

He has taught art at the Minneapolis School of Art, University of Minnesota evening school, Butler, New Jersey, and Menominee, Michigan.

The show will be on exhibition through May 15th.

Dr. Browne awarded grant; attended Kentucky conference

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare of the United States announced on April 17 that Dr. Richard J. Browne of the department of language and literature is to be the recipient of a National Defense Foreign Language Fellowship for the summer.

Dr. Browne intends to use his grant at the African Language and Area Center at Michigan State University in order to learn Swahili and acquaint himself with the techniques of descriptive linguistics in operation on undescribed, exotic tongues of the Niger-Congo family of languages.

Members of the staff at Michigan State will join with visiting scholars to present America's first intensive summer program in African Languages.

An introduction to African linguistics and training in several African languages (such as Ibo Swahili, Hausa and Yoruba) will be offered as well as the usual geography, anthropology and political science of Africa.

This summer's language program is conducted with support of the United States Office of Education, and fellowships are available for post-doctoral work and for degree work. The fellowships provide stipends for living, transportation and all fees.

Dr. Richard J. Browne, associate professor of language and literature, participated in a foreign language conference at the University of Kentucky the last week of April.

Dr. Browne spoke to the conference on medieval languages and demonstrated the use of historical semantics in determining both denotation and connotation of technical courtly terminology in Old French and Late Vulgar Latin.

The conference, held annually, was concerned principally with the teaching of language in the most efficient ways. Almost all known academic languages were discussed as learning experiences and as practical problems in teaching. Special sections were devoted to language and learning problems in Serbo-Croatian, conversational Latin for elementary students, classical and colloquial Hebrew, oriental languages, etc., as well as applications of modern linguistic theory to the development of linguistic abilities.

MSC Theatre to present three one-act plays tonight

The final presentation for the school year by the MSC Theatre, three one-act plays, will be produced tonight and tomorrow night at 8:15.

The three, all experimental, are Jean Giraudoux's "The Apollo of Bellac," Edward Elbee's "The American Dream," and Eugene Ionesco's "The Chairs."

The cast for "The Apollo of Bellac" is Kathy Mosleth as Agnes, Evie Meier as Therese, James Ebsen as the Clerk, Bob McAlpine as the Man, Glenn Turcotte as the Vice-President, James Holper as Mr. Cracheton, John Gustafson as Mr. Lepadura, Curt Hamre as Mr. Rasemutte, Gary Rayppy as Mr. Schultz, Dan Wilhelm as the President, Gary Brown as the Chairman of the Board, and Nancy Ebel as Chevrement.

"The American Dream" features Judy Livdahl as Mommy, Patrick McDonough as Daddy, Marilyn Thompson as Grandma, Connie Ehrlich as Mrs. Barker, and Buddy McCroskey as the Young Man.

The cast for "The Chairs" is Charles Grover as the Old Man, Nancy Berg as the Old Woman, and Michael Steinke as the Orator.

Dr. Delmar Hansen, Theatre director, has prepared for the Mystic the following summaries of the plays:

"The Apollo of Bellac," a one-act play by Jean Giraudoux, is the quintessence of the author's extraordinary imagination and style. Essentially a comedy of language, the play unfolds the story of a shy young girl who comes seeking a job in an Office of Inventions. She is ignored until a nondescript man from the town of Bellac demonstrates his secret for her.

The revelation of this "secret" is alive with the poet-diplomat's wry and trenchant observations on man, for like all poets and diplomats, Giraudoux's chief weapon is language.

Edward Albee's one-act play, "The American Dream," has been called "a unique and often brilliant play" which is "illuminated with a comic sense that matches and often resembles the comic sense of Gertrude Stein, Lewis Carroll, and Jacques Tati."

It is a comic satire which, according to its author, is "an examination of the American Scene, an attack on the substitution of artificial for real values in our society, a condemnation of complacency, cruelty, emasculation, and vacuity; it is a stand against the fiction that everything in this land of ours is peachy-keen."

"The Chairs" by Eugene Ionesco is perhaps the most curious of this evening's plays. Sketchy characters carried away by words, changing identities, talking without communication, preys to organized disorder, and living out directed dreams mark Ionesco's assault on the realistic theatre of today.

Denying the traditional flow of action and the traditional concept of character, "The Chairs" uses fantasy not so much to open a door to the beyond but rather to create a farcical universe which parallels our own reality. Amid a ridiculous conglomeration of chairs, two old people work out their destinies in a world of the absurd. By extension, our world is neither more or less justified than what unfolds on the stage and can therefore, according to Ionesco, be considered quite as ridiculous.

Swimming show to be May 10-11; will feature numbers from movies

Synchronized swimmers from Moorhead State College and Fargo Central High School will join together in MacLean Pool next Thursday and Friday, May 10 and 11, to perform an interesting show to the public at 8:15 p.m.

The theme for the show will be "Marquee Miniatures", music from hit movies and Broadway musical selections.

The eleven synchronized swimming numbers include, "Tara's Theme" from Gone with the Wind, "Theme from Limelight," "Hi-Lili, from Lili, "I'm Gonna Wash That Man Right Out of My Hair" from South Pacific, "Three Coins in the Fountain," "Wonderbar," "Can't Say No" from Okla-homa!, Theme from "The Apartment", "Moon River" from Breakfast at Tiffany's, "Never on Sunday," and "Tonight from West Side Story.

The Moorhead State College Synchronized Swimmers under the student direction of Pearl LeRud and Beatrice Brown are Laura Aagesen, Beatrice Brown, Dianne Smith, Judy

Thomas, Becky Luther, Karen Jacobson, Sue Person, Jeanette Trovatten, Judy Heiggelke, Ruth Baer, Pearl LeRud, and Shirley Zicafoose.

In addition to eleven synchronized swimming numbers, the water show will include fancy diving by Bette McDunn, Denton Anderson, and Don Pate, as well as clown diving by Denton Anderson, Don Pate, Doug Kindseth, Dean Holm, and Gary Landsem. Ted Larson and Patrick McDonough will be emcees for the show.

Mrs. Dorothy Lundquist, a physical education instructor at Fargo High School, and Miss Mary Montgomery from MSC have assisted with the planning and preparation for the show.

Choreography by Beatrice Brown, Joan Harris, Pearl LeRud, Sue Person, and Shirley Zicafoose.

Ted Larson and Dave Nord are assisting with lighting and sound.

Contributions will be taken, but there will be no admission charged.

Fall applications 64% ahead of 1961

Application for fall quarter are 64% higher than last year, according to figures released this week by Dr. Robert A. Hanson, Registrar.

This time last year, there were a total of 272 acceptances, compared with 425 this year. Of these numbers, there are 6 and 24 transfer students accepted respectively, with the balance being freshmen applicants.

The projected enrollment for this coming fall, while not definite, is expected to be over 1650, Dr. Hanson said, and represents a trend across the nation toward earlier registration.

Room 110

The problem of choosing the MSC Homecoming Queen is one that has been under much discussion on campus lately, and it was further discussed at the Student Commission meeting on Monday night, April 30.

Judy Berquam, spokesman for the Intersorority Council, suggested a plan whereby the student body would limit the eligible candidates to six by a vote early in the fall quarter. A later vote would decide the queen.

In the past, the sororities have sponsored the candidates and they now find this too big a financial burden. If the task was lifted from the sororities, more of their time and money could be spent on floats and outside publicity, thereby helping the college.

It was also suggested that the freshmen be ineligible to vote for the queen as many of them do not know who they are voting for.

A committee of Joann Doran, Ed Schwartz, and Wes Schierman, social commissioner, will assist the Intersorority Council in compiling a plan for the elections, to be presented at a future Student Commission meeting.

Five MSC swimmers in one act from "Marquee Miniatures," to be presented next Thursday and Friday, May 10 and 11.

Spring football starts

Head Football Coach Dwaine Hoberg opened spring football practice this past week with around 40 enthusiastic charges participating in spring drills.

Coach Hoberg stated that everyone who is at all interested in participating should come out. The individual does not necessarily have to be an athlete, anyone that has the feeling of participating should feel free to come out and participate. "Everyone is welcome," continued Hoberg.

The former St. Louis Park grid head mentor will be experimenting and shifting around the line-up at different positions this spring in preparation for next fall's gridiron opener. The practices will be concentrated mostly on preparing the boys offensively and defensively.

"We want to be ready right now for the opening practice next August 25th, and that opener with the Bison from North Dakota State University," stated Hoberg.

The spring drills will be highlighted with an intra-squad game under the lights tentatively slated for the evening of May 25th.

In preparation for this dual, Hoberg will hold 15 days of practice with three times a week for the first two weeks.

Racquet matches today

The 1962 Moorhead State College tennis season opened with the tough North Dakota State University netmen on the Dragon courts. It also was the opening match for the Bison and they came out on top in this one, by a 6-3 margin.

Bob Worrall, a junior from Park Rapids, and Ted Hatlen, junior from Hitterdal, captured single matches and garnered two points of the three total in these matches. Russ Miller combined with Hatlen to make the total count three on the Dragon ledger.

SINGLES

Tom Wright, NDSU, defeated Jim Nagel 6-1, 6-4. Skip Knutson, NDSU, defeated Kern Olson, 6-0, 7-5. Dell Dustrud, NDSU, defeated John Long, 6-1, 6-4. Errol Quick, NDSU, ousted Mike Olson, 8-6, 6-0. Bob Worrall, MSC, beat Pat McDonald, 6-2, 6-3. Ted Hatlen, MSC, topped Charles Ngo, 6-2, 6-3.

DOUBLES

Wright-Knutson defeated K. Olson-Long, 6-1, 6-0. Quick-Dustrud nipped Nagel-Worrall, 6-8, 6-2, 9-7. Hatlen-Miller defeated McDonald-Ngo 1-6, 6-0, 6-1.

The Dragon netmen then entertained Concordia's Cobbers and found the going just a little bit different, as the locals came out on top in this decision with a 5-4 victory.

Jim Nagel was the big gun for the Dragon charges as he won both of his single matches with 6-0 shut-outs over Dick Pett, next season's basketball captain-elect for the Cobbers.

Kern Olson, John Long, and Russ Miller also came up with singles wins and the doubles combination of Olson and Long won a doubles match also.

SINGLES

Jim Nagel, MSC bested Dick Pett, 6-0, 6-0. Kern Olson, MSC beat Gerald Sandness, 14-12, 6-4. John Long, MSC, defeated Curtis Sigdestad, 6-3, 6-2. Mike Olson, MSC lost to Gary Kohls, 7-5, 6-4. Dan Quello, Concordia, beat Bob Worrall, 6-2, 6-3. Russ Miller, MSC beat Dale Knutson, 3-6, 6-4, 6-3.

DOUBLES

K. Olson-J. Long, MSC beat Sandness-Knutson 7-5, 6-2. Nagel-Ted Hatlen, MSC, lost to Pett-Sigdested, 6-4, 6-4. Quello-Cole, Concordia, beat M. Olson-R. Miller, 4-6, 6-1, 6-1.

Then last Saturday, the Dragon machine under the tutorship of Head Tennis Coach Bill Garland took to the road and ventured to North Dakota University to duel the Sioux six.

The Dragons ran into a real tough aggregation in the North Dakotans as they lost their second duel match of the season 9-1 to push their record to a 1-2 mark.

Jim Nagel was the only member of the local machine to put together a victory. The senior from Breckenridge did this with a 7-5, and 6-3 victories over Bob Lundeen.

SINGLES

Jim Nagel, MSC, defeated Bob Lundeen, 7-5, 6-3. Ken Delap, UND, bested Kern Olson, 6-1, 6-2. Wayne Anderson, UND, beat John Long, 6-0, 6-3. Terry Torgenrud, defeated Mike Olson, 6-2, 6-2. Doug Bliven, UND, beat Bob Worrall, 6-1, 6-0. Howard

Hruby, UND, beat Russ Miller, 8-6, 6-1. Robert Miller, UND, beat Ted Hatlen, 6-3, 6-1.

DOUBLES

Anderson-Torgenrud, UND, defeated Long-K. Olson, 6-3, 6-1. Lundeen-Delap, UND, beat Nagel-M. Olson, 6-3, 6-1. Bliven-Hruby, UND, defeated Miller-Worrall, 6-2, 6-0.

Doug Bliven, the youngster that ousted our own Bobby Worrall, won the Minnesota State Tennis championship in singles matches his junior year and was runner-up his senior year.

The locals played North Dakota State University once again this past week, but the match was not as yet completed as this issue went to press.

Today, the netmen will participate in the Bison Invitational at North Dakota State University. Next week they continue their seasonal action when they host North Dakota State's freshmen team and then play host to those toughies from the University of North Dakota. The two meets will be held on Wednesday and Thursday respectively.

The Moorhead State College golfers found the range for 18 holes and won the Moorhead Country Club Invitational Golf Meet last Friday afternoon.

The victorious Dragons finished with a five man total of 403. Second place went to the University of North Dakota with 409. Six strokes back of the champion Dragon quintet. The remaining entry totals went this way, at 410 was the North Dakota State University Bison, Concordia 413, St. Cloud 418, Bemidji State 427, and Morris 453.

Don Rhoten, a junior from Fargo, was co-medalist with Paul Sanderson of Concordia. The two linksters finished with totals of 75.

The following are the individual scores of the seven collegiate schools that took part in the Invitational.

MOORHEAD—Don Rhoten-75, Pete Specht-77, Ron Solheim-83, "Skip" Adams-83, and Bob Quam-85.

UND—Pete Fritzell-77, Don Stokalk-78, Rick Render-79, Bob Goehl-84, and Pat Keeley-91.

Coach T. Edison Smith's linksters go onward to their second Invitational Meet today when they travel to Detroit Lakes to take part in the North Dakota State University Invitational.

Then on next Tuesday afternoon they will match cards with the Concordia Cobber Linksters in a match at Fargo.

Dragon baseballers ready for Conference opener tomorrow

Moorhead State's baseball team under the guidance of Head Coach Loel Frederickson will travel to St. Cloud State College tomorrow to square off with the Huskies in their Northern States Conference opener.

The afternoon's action will begin at 1:00 p.m. with a second outing scheduled for around 3:00 p.m. It will be the second twinbill for the local tribe as they opened their season with a doubleheader with St. John's University.

The club currently boasts a record of two wins against three losses. The victories have been over St. John's and North Dakota State. The defeats have been dealt to the hands of St. John's, North Dakota State and Mayville State Teachers College.

Lyle Hemingson has been the big gun for the locals as the freshmen from Granite Falls picked up that opening victory in the second game of a doubleheader at St. John's. The husky righthander fired a neat one-hitter at the Johnnies.

Coach Frederickson will probably start with Bob Fernholz behind the plate, Dick Menzel at the initial sack,

Coach Frederickson has not yet indicated his starting hurlers for the twinbill, but you can be assured that the mound aces will see a lot of action this Saturday. Hemingson, who threw a one-hitter at St. John's University in his college debut, will be on hand along with such stalwarts as Wayne Hasz, Gary Loberg, and Dale Skallerud, a lefthanded ace from Madison.

Dragon relays tomorrow

by Larry Larson

Thirty-four schools from Minnesota and North Dakota are entered in the 15th annual Dragon Relays to be held at Alex Nemzek Stadium Saturday, (tomorrow) May 5.

Thirteen Class A schools and 21 Class B schools have indicated to take part in the event which will feature the first ever on the new Nemzek Stadium track.

Roy Domek, meet manager, has worked hard in preparation for this 15th annual meet. Last year's outing was cancelled because of a wet track.

The classic will get under way with the preliminaries at 1 p.m. The finals and relay events are tabbed for 7 p.m.

Schools with an enrollment of less than 250 in the upper four grades are entered in Class B. Those with more than 250 enrollment enter Class A.

Among the Class A schools entered are: Barnesville, Benson, Breckenridge, Detroit Lakes, East Grand Forks, Fargo, Fergus Falls, Montevideo, Moorhead, Pelican Rapids, Thief River Falls, Wheaton, and Crookston.

Those participating in Class B will be: Alberta, Ada, Barrett, Amenia, Dilworth, Elbow Lake, Fertile, Foston, Glyndon, Hallock, Halstad, Hawley, Hendrum, Herman, Hitterdal, Lake Park, Lisbon, N.D., New York Mills, Twin Valley, Underwood, and Wauben.

The 360-yard low hurdles shuttle relay, a new event, has been added to the schedule.

Four other relays are slated with the 440, 880, mile, mile medley.

The 14-event program also includes the 100, high and low hurdles, high jump, pole vault, broad jump, shot out, discus and mile.

Thinclads at Bison meet

On Saturday, May 5, the Dragons start their outdoor season at the Bison Relays, a big invitational track-meet held at NDSU, drawing track athletes from several states.

The following week the MSC team travels to Bemidji twice. On Monday, May 7, there is a triangular meet there, and on Friday, May 11, the Bemidji Invitational will be held. This will include most of the schools in the conference, and should shape up to be a preview of the conference meet to be held the following week at MSC.

McAlpine sets pole vault record, 11'10 3/4"

Head Track Coach Glenn Cafer's 5-man track squad did very well for itself at UND.

Bob McAlpine, sophomore from Port Arthur, Ontario, Canada, broke the MSC pole vault record set in 1958 by Ron Noesen, by vaulting 11'10 3/4". Marshall Shquist, junior from Minneapolis, placed in three events; Robert Reger, a freshman from New York Mills, ran a hard double-the mile and two mile-and placed in both.

Jerry Lovell, a sophomore from Moorhead, jumped 5'6" for third place in the high jump.
